

A Word about Our Church Music Federation

The Federation of Greek Orthodox Choirs of the Western States-East, with its headquarters in Denver, Colorado, was founded in 1975. This name was chosen to describe the geographic area of the Federation and reflect the close relationship with our sister Federation on the west coast. The name was later changed to the Greek Orthodox Metropolis of Denver Church Music Federation in order to fit the new Metropolis structure of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. This new name also expanded the scope of the organization to include all Greek Orthodox Church musicians in our Metropolis. The Federation hopes to serve the church musically through assisting in the organization, growth, and development of its member choirs, chanters, and parishes.

Federation members have met annually since 1975 in various cities across the Metropolis. Each meeting includes musical and spiritual workshops, rehearsals, and social activities. The conference culminates when the combined Federation choir sings the music for that Sunday's Divine Liturgy.

Seeking to encourage new music and to recognize our church composers, the Federation leadership formed a committee to oversee the publication of works for use by its member choirs and chanters. This committee has now published numerous works in various church music categories, designed to be of practical and immediate use by liturgical choirs and chanters.

The Federation began publishing the Holiday Choral Series in 1978. This series is designed to include, in separate folios, all of the special hymns for a given feast day both in chant form and choral arrangement.

A Junior Choir category was inaugurated in 1981 with the publication of the Holy Saturday Morning Service by Pericles Phillips. This series provides new materials designed for the use and development of Youth or Junior Choirs. This series was later supplemented with the Unison Liturgy for Greek Orthodox Choirs by Dr. Tikey Zes. The Unison Liturgy, for smaller choirs, is arranged in chant form, drawn from the traditional melodies of John Sakellarides. Dr. Theodore Bogdanos provided the interlineal English translation.

Another series, Service Books, was initiated in 1994 with the publication of The Byzantine Liturgy: Hymnology and Order by Theodore Bogdanos. This hardbound book led to another series, the Special Services, which now includes the Service of Pentecost Vespers of Kneeling by Dr. Tikey Zes, with English translation by Fr. Evagoras Constantinides, and the Services of Betrothal and Matrimony by Dr. Theodore Bogdanos. Our newest Paschal (Easter) Series covers the various services of Greek Orthodox Holy Week which include, to date, the services of Easter Sunday and Holy Tuesday, with a new Hymn of Kassiani by Dr. Theodore Bogdanos. This series also includes the hymn Defte Lavete Fos (Come Receive the Light), by Fr. John Paul, for use on Holy Saturday Evening.

Most recently, the Federation is delighted to announce the publication of the Bilingual Edition of the Typikon by George Violakis. This is the ritual order of all services of the Greek Orthodox Church, translated by Fr. Robert Athas. This hard-bound book was edited by Dr. George Demos. Dr. Theodore Bogdanos was a contributing translator and editor.

Since its inception, our Church Music Federation has maintained its efforts to improve the quality of musical worship in our parishes. We invite your comments and hope you will find these materials useful.
